Document ID: NT-HR-001 | Version: 1.0 | Effective: 01 January 2026

Owner: Human Resources | Classification: Internal Use

1. Purpose

The Novatrix Technologies Employee Handbook provides a common reference for workplace expectations, employee responsibilities, communication standards, attendance, conduct, confidentiality, and general employment practices.

2. About Novatrix Technologies

Novatrix Technologies Pvt. Ltd. is a technology services company delivering software engineering, data analytics, cloud solutions, automation, and technology consulting services. The company operates offices in Bengaluru, Chennai, Hyderabad, and Pune.

Novatrix aims to maintain a professional, inclusive, collaborative, and technology-driven workplace.

3. Working Hours

Standard working hours are 9:30 AM to 6:30 PM, Monday through Friday, unless a team, project, shift, client requirement, or approved work arrangement specifies otherwise.

Employees are expected to be available during agreed working hours and to communicate planned changes in availability to their manager.

4. Attendance and Punctuality

- Employees should report to work on time and remain available during scheduled hours.
- Unexpected absence or significant delay should be communicated to the reporting manager as soon as reasonably possible.
- Attendance requirements may vary for shift-based, customer-facing, or project-specific roles.
- Leave and work-from-home requests must follow the applicable company policy.

5. Employee Identification

Every employee is assigned a unique employee ID. Employees must use the assigned ID when accessing employee services, submitting internal requests, or completing company processes where identification is required.

6. Professional Conduct

- Treat colleagues, customers, vendors, and visitors with respect.
- Communicate professionally in person, by email, and through collaboration tools.
- Support a collaborative and inclusive working environment.
- Follow company policies, procedures, and reasonable management instructions.
- Protect company, customer, and employee information.

- Use company facilities and equipment responsibly.
- Do not engage in harassment, discrimination, intimidation, threats, violence, or other inappropriate workplace behavior.

7. Communication

Employees should use approved company communication channels for business discussions. Important decisions, approvals, and commitments should be documented through appropriate company systems when required.

8. Confidentiality

Employees must protect confidential company, customer, financial, technical, employee, and business information. Confidential information must only be shared with authorized people who have a legitimate business need.

9. Performance and Development

Employees are expected to understand their responsibilities, participate in performance discussions, complete required training, and work with their managers on professional development goals.

10. Workplace Responsibilities

- Maintain a safe and professional work environment.
- Protect company property and information.
- Follow IT, information security, leave, expense, travel, and workplace policies.
- Report suspected policy violations or security incidents through the appropriate channel.

11. Policy Compliance

Employees are responsible for understanding policies applicable to their role. Where two policies address the same topic, the more specific applicable policy should be followed. Statutory requirements and approved employment terms take precedence where applicable.
